HOW TO RECOGNISE A SEASONED TRAVELLER

The thought of going to the airport and flying to a foreign country is exciting to many people. However, in their enthusiasm they can 1)  one of the silly mistakes a seasoned traveller would never make.

The seasoned traveller will always 2)  at the airport with plenty of time to 3)  in. Stressful travelling is not for them. Tickets and passports are always 4)  hand, either in a briefcase, handbag or other hand 5) . You don't see them having to open their suitcase in front of everybody to find passports and tickets.

They also will be wearing 6)  clothing as there is nothing worse than travelling in clothes and shoes that are too 7) .  Read a series of interviews in a magazine, in which people talk about what they like and dislike about London. For questions 1-9 choose from the people A, B, C, D or none. Some letters may be used more than once.

Tell me about it....

Ben Sharratt took to the streets of London to ask what people love and hate about it.

A Beverley, 25

I love street life. In Camden, the area where I work, there are a lot of people doing their own thing, selling things they've made themselves. In the summer it's really lively and people are out until late. But new regulations mean that many street traders aren't allowed to go there any more. It's pretty sad. It annoys me, because they are doing nothing wrong, just trying to make a living. It is a real shame because that's what Camden's all about.

The biggest improvement you could make to London would be to ban people wearing sunglasses on the Underground! It really annoys me.

B Miranda, 22

Rent is really expensive here. I'm paying 70 pounds a week, which in relation to my wage is a lot. Before this I was living more centrally and paying 80 pounds a week, which wasn't worth it at all. The more central the part you live in, the more you pay. That's normal in any place, but especially so here. In London you get practically half the salary you would get in Australia, where I come from, while still paying the same rent.

It's a beautiful city with lots of galleries and shops. But the standard of living is much higher in Australia.

C Bernice, 20

You can't beat London's parks. The rest of the city is a bit too busy, especially the centre of town. Hyde Park is my favourite; it's big and green space. It is nice to be in the park in the middle of the chaos and just spend lunchtime sitting and taking it easy. At my previous job in another town, there was nowhere you could go to get away from it all.

The worst thing is all the traffic and fumes on the roads. I wouldn't ride a bike in central London. I'm not that brave. I'm far having more pedestrian-only streets: it would be safer, cleaner and quieter.

D Jane, 29

There's too much litter and dirt on the streets. It's like the whole city needs to be washed from top to bottom. London's got a lot of life, but to tell you the truth, if I never came here again it wouldn't really bother me. When I was younger, I thought it was great. I did all the clubs and everything, but now I'm hitting 30, that's all over. When I come up by car for an evening out, I spend the whole time worrying about whether I've parked where I shouldn't.

SYDNEY is the largest and most populous city in Australia and the state capital of New South Wales. Sydney is situated on Australia's south-east coast of the Tasman Sea, the sea that was named after the Dutch explorer Abel Janszoon Tasman, the first recorded European to encounter New Zealand and Tasmania. The location of the first British colony in Australia, Sydney was established in 1788. The city is built on hills surrounding Port Jackson which is universally known as Sydney Harbour. Towering skyscrapers, iconic buildings and monuments of engineering offer stunning views. A year round climate of blue skies and sunshine make the ideal location for City Sightseeing's premier open top Double-Decker tour bus service.

The Blue Mountains embraces 26 townships in an area of 1,433 square kilometers. The townships are situated from 50 to 120 km west of Sydney and are within 1,000 square kilometers of this World Heritage listed National Park. The Blue Mountains was declared a World Heritage park in November 2000. It was nominated for its outstanding natural values, including the biodiversity of its plant and animal communities, its vegetation, which is dominated by Australia's unique eucalypts, and for the beauty of its natural landscapes.

The Sydney Opera House has become Sydney's best-known landmark and international symbol. The base for the building was started in 1959 - years before the designs were finished. It took four years to design by Danish architect Jorn Utzon and by 1962 the designs were finalized and construction began. In total it took 14 years to build and was officially opened on the 20th of October 1973 by Queen Elizabeth II. The Sydney Opera House is a fascinating building and heart of the city's cultural scene.

The Sydney Harbour Bridge (Sydney's greatest tourism icon) - on a par with San Francisco's Golden Gate Bridge, New York's Statue of Liberty, London's Tower Bridge and the Eiffel Tower in Paris - took eight years to build and opened in March 1932. Once nicknamed the 'coathanger' it is now simply called 'the bridge' by Sydneysiders. Linking the city with North Sydney, it carries eight lanes of road traffic and two railway tracks which form part of the city's rail suburban network.

The Sydney Harbour Bridge has a pair of granite clad pylons at each end, they are actually there for show and do not support the great arch which is 530 meters (1650 feet) long.

Slinky's head, feet, and tail are plastic and he is missing his pull string. Slinky also has a green collar. Slinky dog is a nice, friendly, and playful dog. He is quite well-behaved compared with some of others Andy's toys. He shows faith in Woody (sometimes acting like his pet), and he'll do anything to help his friend out
SLINKY DOG

Ironhide first appeared in the Transformers Animated series. Ironhide is the Autobots' resident weapons specialist and Optimus Prime's old friend. It earned his name from his ability to transmute his body into a nearly-impenetrable metal. IRONHIDE was built at a time when armor was thick, and circuitry was simple. He is the oldest of the AUTOBOTS, testing in thousands of battles, over countless centuries. He has been injured many times, but never deactivated. For every scratch and scar that he bears he has a tale to tell, and most of the younger AUTOBOTS are all too eager to hear them. Gruff, and sometimes grumpy, he is also naturally protective of the other AUTOBOTS. He is tough, rough, and nearly impossible to damage.
